

Dr. Carl Mack calls for more corporate support for youth education

Dr. Carl Mack, United States Engineer, motivational speaker and the Executive Director of the National Society of Black Engineers spent a week here urging all within the sound of his voice to take a more serious approach to education of St. Lucia's youth.

Dr. Carl Mack's weeklong visit was facilitated by RISE, an organisation dedicated to youth empowerment. Dr. Mack encouraged the promotion of science and technology, service, youth development and education.

He met with the Chamber of Commerce and called for corporate support of educational opportunities for the youth and urged the Cabinet of Ministers to dedicate more resources to education.

While here Dr. Mack also participated in a youth rally which was held in Soufriere, an event sponsored by the 1st National Bank. At a special check presentation the Managing Director of the bank Mr. Carlton Glasgow pledged his organisation's continued support for youth and community development programmes.

Dr. Carl Mack with Chamber members

Dr. Mack [R] meeting with Carlton Glasgow of 1st National Bank and Dr. Stephen King [L] of RISE

Rooster Select strikes gold within first year

Nine months after the Windward and Leeward Brewery launched Rooster Select on the Saint Lucian market came word that the full-bodied dark brew had won gold at the Monde Selection in Brussels.

The Monde Selection's mission is to test consumer products and grant them a bronze, silver, gold or grand gold quality award.

On Wednesday June 30, at a function held at the Sandals Grande ballroom to mark this important milestone, Managing Director of WLBL Jonathan Hall stated that it was really not in the tradition of WLBL to trumpet their achievements preferring to be seen as quiet achievers.

He went on to state that after being on the market for just nine months, Marketing manager Shelly Black and his team decided to place Rooster under the strictest scrutiny in Belgium. "Our Rooster select goes gold and that is great, great news," Hall proclaimed.

Prime Minister Stephenson King and Commerce Minister Senator Tessa Mangal celebrate with WLBL