

The National Society of Black Engineers

Member Code of Conduct

Purpose of the Code

The primary concerns of the National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE) are our mission and our members. NSBE is dedicated to the academic, professional, and cultural development of our student and professional members, as well as the development of ethically sensitive and responsible persons. It seeks to achieve these goals through sound academic and professional programming and through regulations and policies governing conduct that encourages independence, maturity and respect for the rights and viewpoints of others.

Conduct at non-Society-sponsored activities is viewed as the members' personal business. Conduct at Society-sponsored events is expected to be in accordance with this Member Code of Conduct (hereafter referred to as "the Code"). The Society reserves the right to impose disciplinary sanctions or take other appropriate action when conduct is not in accordance with the Code.

This Code is in effect for chapter, regional and national Society activities.

The following categories and examples of unacceptable behavior are subject to disciplinary actions. The Society reserves the right to identify other behaviors not listed below.
